The CCHS student body will gather for Biblical Worldview Emphasis Week Chapel services on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday September 2nd through September 4th. This year's Biblical Worldview Emphasis Week will partner with Apologetics, Inc. and focus on the CCHS chapel theme: Back to the Source. CCHS will operate on an adjusted bell schedule during Biblical Worldview Emphasis Week that can be found in the Resource Documents tab in the FACTS Family Portal.

PARTNERING WITH THE PARENTS

The Spiritual Formation Department and School Culture Department will host a CCHS Partnering with the Parents workshop series. These workshops are designed to partner with parents in the spiritual formation of their children, foster meaningful relationships among parents, and equip families to help students develop healthy spiritual habits and a thriving faith. The first workshop will explore some of the real questions students are asking and how parents can biblically engage questions such as:

- "If God is loving, why is there so much bad and evil in the world?"
- "How can God be all-powerful, all-loving, and all-knowing at once? All the arguments I have heard do not work."
- "How did God begin? I understand how God created everything, but where was God's beginning?"
- "How can I believe in God when it is hard without physical proof?"
- "How do the Bible and science go together?"
- "I find God's judgment hard to believe because there isn't a black-and-white answer to a lot of subjects."

The first session will be on Wednesday, September 9th, from 6:30 PM to 8:00 PM in HS 305. All CCHS parents are invited to attend. Dinner will be provided at 5:30 PM in Cafe One:22.
