UNIFORM CLOTHING DONATIONS FOR EISENHOWER STUDENTS A SUCCESS!

CCHS Head of School, Mr. David Kilgore, expresses his sincere appreciation to the many, many school families who responded to the need of providing school uniform clothing for the Eisenhower Elementary students who lost everything when their homes were flooded during Hurricane Milton. The generosity of the CCHS students and families provided hundreds of uniform clothing, as well as a plentiful amount of underwear, sock, shoes, and backpacks to the students who lost so much. Eisenhower Elementary requested CCHS no longer accept donations for the project. The school's storage room for the clothing is filled to capacity, and Eisenhower's administration believes the donations received are more than enough to provide the necessary clothing for the students. Mr. Kilgore requests CCHS students and families continue to pray for the Eisenhower students and their families. He is so thankful the CCHS school family was able to share the love of Christ by providing the clothing for the Eisenhower students. It is encouraging to know the impact was not just to the students, but the faculty and staff at Eisenhower were touched by the generosity from the CCHS community.
